

John Taylor

Please tell us about yourself –

I am in property management and have been for 29 years. I manage large-scale commercial properties for one of the world's largest banks. I have over 11,000 people in one of the buildings that I actually office out of in Las Colinas. I have been a President of an HOA before for several years for a property that had over 1,700 homes. I love to fish and go on weekend trips in the Hill Country.

Please write past experiences/work –

I believe my experience with common sense attitude is what is needed for this position to keep our neighborhood safe and looking at its best for all.
